

Reason for love

David Hodges

Sitting here in the dark
i don't know what went wrong but it's over now wish i could be where you are but some things should never be said out loud come save me unbreak me cuz i just cant forget you take me so far away from this place where my heart can breathe somewhere i can believe again give me something that time can't erase cuz losing you is taking too much tell me there's a reason for love i see myself walking away but there's a piece of my heart that's still holding on people say "let it go" but leaving is easier said than done

give me somethin that time can't erase
tell me there's a reason for looove yeah yeahh

each memory still haunts me
i can't forget youuu

losing you is taking too much
