

Thursday

David Hodges

Another cloudy Thursday
And nothing's on my mind
I wished the rain would go out
And something caught my eye
And then a flood of memories
Start pouring once again
Seeing you across this crowded room
Makes me remember when
So here I go again

Cause every time I see your face
It takes me back to a place where
We were together
With all of you and all of me
And all our love is all we needed
To stay forever
And what I'm dreaming of
And seeing you, is seeing me, in love

Remembering that Thursday
A day just like today
Watching as you walked out of my life
And took my heart away
And all I have are memories
Love frozen in time
The photographs of you still loving me forever in my mind
I can't leave the past behind

Cause every time I see your face
It takes me back to a place where
We were together
With all of you and all of me
And all our love is all we needed
To stay forever
And what I'm dreaming of
And seeing you, is seeing me, in love

And if I never feel your touch
How will you know that I still love you so much

Cause every time I see your face
It takes me back to a place where
We were together
With all of you and all of me
And all our love is all we needed
To stay forever
And what I'm dreaming of
And seeing you, is seeing me
Seeing you, is seeing me, in love
