I Don't Love You Anymore

David Houston

I don't love you anymore not the way I did before And since you've found somebody new I think it's best I don't cry and walk the floor I don't love you anymore The trouble is I don't love you any less I don't love you anymore for I've got no more love to give You drained my heart of all its love with every sweet caress I keep saying o'er and o'er I don't love you anymore The trouble is I don't love you any less

I held you close to me one time kissed your lips and called you mine Then another came and warmed you with his touch I cried as you walked out the door I don't love you anymore That's the truth but I still love you just as much I don't love you anymore...
