Clouds

David Nail

Well, the turn signal's clicking And the seconds are slipping away Just a little bit more of this turnpike And so much to say

The airport traffic, it slows us to a still I turn the radio down And leave one hand on the wheel

Well I don't know what to tell you What do you wanna hear You see, guys like me, we just disappear

You deserve someone who will never leave But, girl, the last few days are the best we'll ever be

Isn't every goodbye a chance to become A bittersweet memory for someone Don't you ever look back with regret Share with me a moment for all time In a corner of your mind

If you've never seen New England in the fall Should you find yourself up there, give me a call But before I make my way into the crowd Could I share one last kiss while we're still in the clouds

Isn't every goodbye a chance to become A bittersweet memory for someone Don't you ever look back with regret Share with me a moment for all time In a corner of your mind

Isn't every goodbye a chance to become A bittersweet memory for someone Don't you ever look back with regret Share with me a moment for all time In a corner of your mind

In a corner of your mind
