

Long goodbye

David Usher

Just a terminal case like a fish on a hook im baited youre welcome inside my armies are marching i cant save you who could save you
i can see that from your wounds youre open wide its coming clear now that youre leaving you forgot the people that youve left behind this is the long long goodbye try to keep smiling as these tears break from my eyes this is the way i used to feel guess ill be trading down for something much more real much more real caught in a terrible wind with a kick in your teeth you blew me in anime eyes youve never been quite sure what your losing but you know youre losing so ill burn these bridges from the other side and in the end its all illusion you forgot the people youve left behind

this is the long long goodbye
much more real

never been quite sure what youre losing but you know youre losi ng
i can see that from your wounds youre open wide its coming clear now that im leaving i forgot the lover that i left behind

much more real
