

Seeing Is Believing

Dawn Golden

Giving, taking, sleeping, waking
Moving nearer to the end
Then a new beginning ventures in
You go to work, you come back home
Still there's always somewhere else to go

Seeing is believing no, no, no
That was very, very long ago

Constant changing everyday
Always going the same way
Take a look around you and you'll know

Being free to love yourself
But knowing there is always someone else
To satisfy you, won't deny you

Seeing is believing no, no, no
That was very, very long ago

Constant changing everyday
Always going the same way
Take a look around you and you'll know

Being free to love yourself
But knowing there is always someone else
Everything you say is always heard

Seeing is believing no, no, no
That was very, very long ago
