

Where Dragons Reign

Dawn Golden

There is a pot of gold unveiled at the rainbow's end
If you keep fighting on you'll find the promised land
He who is strong in mind and has the will to run free
Beyond horizons he might glance as servant of fantasy

Hold my hand and realize that you are the one
Feel the power, the quest has just begun

Show me the way to where dragons reign
The forest of myths behind the sea
Beyond this rainy day sunlight will guide
And dreamwings will carry me

On the path of glory the proud and strong will never fall
So take your stand and hear the wizard's call
