

Angel Without Wings

Dawn of Destiny

One silent whisper
One gentle voice
Luring me away from here
Yes, I will wait for you
Leave this world behind
Everything out of sight
There's no reason to stay here
Yes, I will wait for you

Leaving my home just like there is a known
Facing your fears so you will understand...

Now I fly like an angel without wings to escape despair
And I hope for a better world, maybe another time
Yet I try just to fly like an angel without wings
Hoping for some peace of mind, and you to understand...

Tell me where the joy has been
Tell me where the love has gone

I never thought that no one ever heard me pray
I never thought it would turn out this way
God, talk to me

Leaving my home just like there is a known
Facing your fears so you will understand...

Now I fly like an angel without wings to escape despair
And I hope for a better world, maybe another time
Yet I try just to fly like an angel without wings
Hoping for some peace of mind, and you to understand...

Now I fly like an angel without wings to escape despair
And I hope for a better world, maybe another time
Yet I try just to fly like an angel without wings
Hoping for some peace of mind, and you to understand...
I fly like an angel without wings to escape despair
And I hope for a better world, maybe another time
Yet I try just to fly like an angel without wings
Hoping for some peace of mind, and you to understand...
