Where Are You Now

Dawn of Destiny

Now your face is gone And I am lost, alone without you now Tears fall as you leave 'Cause once we've been as close as we could be

You have been there Every time that I have needed you Still I see your eyes In front of me so full of sorrow now Do you even know How much I miss you since you've been gone

Where are you now Where are you now I don't know why it has come this way Didn't want to stay So where are you now

No one else will come close Please don't look back with pain Oh, I tried so hard To make it right

Where are you now Where are you now I don't know why it has come this way Didn't want to stay So where are you now Where are you now I don't know why it has come this way Didn't want to stay So where are you now
