

Falls Away

Dawn Richard

Ahh ahh ahh

Ahh ahh ahh

I never told you what you mean to me baby eyea

I never told you why i know your the only one for me baby

I cant believe that this happened to me I might get restless but your all I need no matter how bad your day time just seems to

fall away with you nothing really matters cause it could be the end of the world today a hurricane can come and blow me away but if your real close right next to me nothing else matters cause

everything falls away away away away away away away everything falls away away away away away away away

everything falls away

Falls away yea

Even when the sky is gray some how you make it a brighter day and when i cant see past the rain you dry u dry it all away

I cant believe that this happened to me I might get restless but your all I need no matter how bad your day time just seems to

fall away with you nothing really matters cause it could be the end of the world today a hurricane can come and blow me away but if your real close right next to me nothing else matters cause

Everything falls away away away away away away away

everything falls away away away away away away away

Everything Falls away

No worries with you here everything falls away falls away falls away no

It could be the end of the world today a hurricane can come and blow me away but if your real close right next to me nothing else matters cause

Everything falls away away away away away away away

everything falls away away away away away away away

Everything Falls away

I never told you what you mean to me baby

I never told you why I know