

Back to Me

Daya

You only call me your baby when she wasn't there
Now you go calling me crazy because I don't care

We'll never turn back time, now lovin' you is an after thought
Too late to press rewind when all I want to do, do is sob

I've got to break you free
Don't know why you'd ever say love
Knowing I'll never be enough
Breaking the best part of me
When [?] you do me like that
Can't keep pulling you back to me, me, me, me, me
Can't keep pulling you back to me, me, me, me, me

I'll never trust you after the things that I saw
Who wants an ever after if it ain't forever at all

We'll never turn back time, now lovin' you is an after thought
Too late to press rewind when all I want to do, do is sob

I've got to break you free
Don't know why you'd ever say love
Knowing I'll never be enough
Breaking the best part of me
When [?] you do me like that
Can't keep pulling you back to me, me, me, me, me
Can't keep pulling you back to me, me, me, me, me

You'll never be the one 'cause it's not how it's supposed to be
Won't pull you back, pull you back, pull you back to me
I don't want your love baby we were never meant to be
It's not enough so your gonna have to break free

You'll never be the one 'cause it's not how it's supposed to be
Won't pull you back, pull you back, pull you back to me
I don't want your love baby we were never meant to be
It's not enough so your gonna have to break free

I've got to break you free
Don't know why you'd ever say love
Knowing I'll never be enough
Breaking the best part of me
When [?] you do me like that
Can't keep pulling you back to me, me, me, me, me
Can't keep pulling you back to me, me, me, me, me
