

Breathe It In

Daysend

Turning pages of hours I'm hoping to be there
To show you I'm not alone
Blood stains on the road that we have traveled
Much clearer than you believe
It's a crying shame that you're still here alone
Breathe it in
It's a colder life than it shines on you
Breathe it in
Well this is one world not meant for you
Sometimes I feel so complicated and frustrated
Sometimes it makes me die alone I'm alone
It's a crying shame that you're still here alone
Breathe it in
It's a colder life than it shines on you
Breathe it in
Well this is one world not meant for you
And I keep holding my shadow over you
It's a crying shame
A crying shame
A crying shame
Breathe it in
It's colder than life it shines on you
Breathe it in
Well this is one world not meant for you
