No Tomorrow

De/Vision

What if everything that you believe in isn't true?
What if the face you see in the mirror isn't you?

What if the blood we shed was wasted for a long lost cause?
What if you found out you'd sold your soul at a great loss?
What if you woke up from what you thought was an endless dream?
What if the world we know was but a pale reflection of what's r eal?

What would you do,
what would you do,
if there was no tomorrow?
What would you do,
what would you do,
if there was no more time to borrow?
What would you do,
what would you do,
if there was no tomorrow?
What would you do,
what would it do to you?
Would there still be a need to move on?

Pack a whole life into a day,
only living is for free,
let's get lost where nothing matters,
where the sky meets the sea.

Hold me up to the light,
show me things no-one else can see,
let's get lost where nothing matters,
where the sky meets the sea
