De/Vision

You lead me through the harshest pain
Though I injure you
And you forgive me that I'm so mean
It's not hard for you
To be gentle with your heart and soul
That is what I try expel me if you don't believe
But don't start to cry

I beg you
Lay down by my side
To feel you
You build up my pride
And I swear
I will bound
That I care 'leave you safe and sound

There are times we disagree
And we start to hate
But in the end we harmonize
We hang on to each blade
Forget the things I say to you
When I'm in a rage
Don't listen to the row I make You'd better skip this page

I beg you...
