Time

De/Vision

Time, time changes everything time heals all your wounds a broken heart will heal

Time, time changes every thought time changes every point of view you will see things in a different light

Fears, will be forgotten soon will be forgotten totally your mind will be cleaned up

You will see the sun again You will feel it's warmth again Smiling people in the crowd Talking to you, hear their sound

Time, time changes everyone time changes even friend and foe you will see them from a different side

Tears, will sweep away real soon will wash away your misery your sigh will fade away