

At night I'm thinking of sweet revenge
I'm breathing faster, faster
I feel the anger, anger
I'll redefine the meaning of evil
Inside I'm bleeding, bleeding
From all the beating, beating

Let them pay
Let them pay for the things they've done
Let them suffer
For infinity times infinity

Watch closely and you'll see it in my face
The battle scars, battle scars
The bloody tears, the bloody tears
Too many years of built up supressed hate
It has taken its tool on me

Let them pay
Let them pay for the things they've done
Let them suffer
For infinity times infinity

Don't speak your mind
If the words that come out is condescending
Don't even open your mouth
If there's only bad intentions

It has taken its tool on me
It has to stop
Ask not for forgiveness
Cause you will pay
You will pay for the things that you did
You will pay for infinity times infinity

Yeah
Let them pay
Let them pay
For the things they've done
Let them suffer
For infinity times infinity
