I want it to be much more
Than a fading distant memory of the two of us
I keep our picture by the bed
We're greyed out bit I'll not give up on us, no I won't

I turn to the sky wondering where you are Wondering where you are I wonder if we look up on the same star Same star

Maybe we're done maybe not

It does not change how I feel about us

Won't give up hope

You're more beautiful than any diamond found in this world

And damn I miss you so bad

I turn to the sky wondering where you are Wondering where you are I wonder if we look up on the same star Same star
