Lady

Dead Meadow

If the lady of the morning light Should open her eyes... She'd bid the sun arise If the lady of the morning light Let's her hair flow down She'd warm the frost covered ground As falling night gives way to glorious day Our eyes adjust to the sun's bright rays but here comes the sky...