

My Hard And Long Way Home

Dead Silence Hides My Cries

I can no longer bear it

Hey!

Where is my freedom?

Will it come to me again?

Besides my old hope

I do not have anything

I miss my home, miss the things

That used to give me might all the time

I want to come back to my home

I will return to the haven of mine!

I run to you my beloved sight

I see the sun is shining bright

The saving light that helped me everyday

I'm close to you, I'm almost back

It is the day I cannot slack

Just one more dash and I'll be home again

I feel the fetters are taken away

I know, I'll come home forever to stay

I believe that I will take what is mine! All mine!

I run away (I am alive, I am alive)

No more dismay (feeling relief, feeling relief)

I reached my home (my home is my Eden)

I'm not alone (this is my best joy, this is my best joy)
