

Brutal Romance

DeadLock

Your world means nothing to me
Even though I am born from this soil
No soul, no emotion, not even a heart
Just like you.

Pray to whom ever you want
But they won't save you now
As your world is going down.
Pray to whom ever you want
But it's all over now as I start
To walk all over you.

I will cut you a smile from ear to ear
As your whole life's a joke
Break your arms, break your legs
And ask for a dance,
What a brutal romance
What a brutal romance,
It always takes two to tango.
What a brutal romance
What a brutal romance.

Start to pray while I wait around the corner
And death is by my side
You redefined pain and torture
And now it's up to me

Pray to whom ever you want
But they won't hear you now
While I spread the storm.
Pray to whom ever you want
But as far as I can tell
This is going to be the new hell.

I will cut you a smile from ear to ear
As your whole life's a joke
Break your arms, break your legs
And ask for a dance,
What a brutal romance
What a brutal romance,
It always takes two to tango.
What a brutal romance
What a brutal romance.

I am with you
'Til death do us part
And I promise to kill
You state of the art.
