

Friends Like These

Deaf Havana

I got this feeling that we're gonna be alright I know we're gonna be alright the kids are alive and kicking, running for their lives we've just been getting by on stupidly good looks and spending time spitting out these stupidly good hooks you'll never know friends like these and you'll never know, you'll never know remember these places of being young and out of tact drunken honesty that you could never quite take back bring back my summer eyes, I swear I could've almost died

nothing gets worse than growing up
