Internal Demons

Deals Death

All that is evil come forward it's time A call to which we`ll answer All who was born in the depths of this hell Arise from your grave The tale has been told a few times in the past A power of which we feed of A slumbering force in the core of this world will soon see the day

Rise! Reign! My internal demons Rise!

The power of darkness sweeps over the world This war will last forever There is no return, there is no escape Come join my side In the blink of an eye I can teach you to fight Serving my point of interest A gun in your hand but one thought in your head. Fight until your dead

One shot, one kill You all are under our will Forget yourself You're nothing but a shell

Chorus No fear can conquer us and no tear runs down our chin, hell yeah We`ll fight until the end of time with a fire in our eyes

Our blood is thicker than yours and we do not feel regret Come clean and say what you want, we will still be at the top

As the blitzkrieg continues a weapon is born The one and only demon People will fall like the ants that they are By the anger of his fist

The plan is complete yeah the goal has been reached. We`ve earned the celebration A flawless idea that was made into truth And awakened all our dreams.

One shot, one kill You all are under our will Forget yourself You're nothing but a shell

Chorus

Rise! Reign! My internal demons Rise!
