

Come Running Back

Dean Martin

(Come running back)

If you find your new love isn't what you thought it would be

If your nights are lonely now and you need more sympathy

Baby, come running back to me

Come running back to me

Back to the arms that long to hold you forever and ever

If you find his lips don't thrill you like mine used to do

And you see me smiling at you when he's holding you

Baby, come running back to me

Come running back to me

Back to the arms that long to hold you forever and ever

If you realize that you were wrong to say goodbye

Don't allow your foolish pride to let true love go by

Baby, come running back to me

Come running back to me

Back to the arms that long to hold you forever and ever my love

Come running back

(Come running back)

Come running back

(Come running back)

Come running back
