

You Was

Dean Martin

If you were to ask me who the sweetest one I knew was
I'd say you was
If you were to ask me who my favorite point of view was
I'd say you was
When you're not near my heart is inclined to waste away
But when you're here the funny part is
My heart is a spherical lyrical miracle all the day
If you were to ask me who the apple of your eye was
I'd say I was
If you were to ask me who your sweet potato pie was
I'd say I was
Supposing you paid a visit to a certain preacher
Supposing you overheard me practicing "I do"
And you were to ask me who the bride and groom to be was I'd say we was
Me and you
I've got a heart that hollers when you're not close to me
But when you're near it sorta follows
There isn't a lovelier heaven or bubblier place to be
If I were to ask you who the girl I'd glorify was
I'd say I was
If I were to ask you who the boy I'd like to tie was
I'd say I was
Supposing you heard that I was shopping for a trousseau
Supposing I bought you something old and something new
And you were to ask us who the bride and groom to be was I'd say we was me and you
You was
You was
You was
I was
We was me and you
