

Not Another Love Song

Deana Carter

I can't help but wonder how
This fire keep goin out
Even when we try to keep it burning
Its hard to let you go
And that's because i know
Holding on is worth a little hurting

So i don't want to write a love song
Not another love song
I cannot take another painful melody
I don't want to write a love song
Not another love song
Until i know your coming back to me

I wish that you could stay
I wish it everyday
Even though our love is slowly dying
What's a heart supposed to do
When wishes don't come true
It hurts so much it's hard to keep on trying

So i don't want to write a love song
Not another love song
I cannot take another painful melody
I don't want to write a love song
Not another love song
Until i know your coming back to me

So i don't want to write a love song
Not another love song
I cannot take another painful melody
I don't want to write a love song
Not another love song
Until i know your coming back to me
