Dear and the Headlights

In this act I'll disguise those dead eyes
Stretch tight the lips
A glistening gum line
Mouth curtains pulled I shine

My yellow stage light smile distracting dancing puppets on short saliva stri $\ensuremath{\mathsf{ngs}}$

So you'll find comfort in a lie

My over-bite clenched, set in place Like a stack of polished, bright white dinner plates Hand in my pocket Straight jacket mind, yeah It's gettin' easy

I wish I had a single thought
The least bit legitimate enough
To open up my mouth and spit accuracy
It's gettin' easy

In this act I'll disguise those dead eyes
Lay flat the tongue
Let the supplement slide down
Everything is fine!
And my brain is cloudy, leveled out
The pill, dissolved, it's flushing out
Everything I care about
And not replacing it with anything substantial

So I'm on my hands and knees
Like a martyr callin' out his final plea
The executioner looks exactly like me
It's me!
It's gettin' easy

My over-bite clenched so tight
Like a stack of dinner plates all polished white
Hands at my side
Straight jacket mind, alright
It's gettin' easy

And I wish I had a single thought
The least bit legitimate enough
And I wish I had a single thought
The least bit legitimate enough
(And I wish I had a single thought...)
And I wish I wasn't on my hands and knees
Like martyr callin' out his final plea
The executioner looks exactly like me
It's me!
It's gettin's easy

In this act I'll disguise those dead eyes

Like a stack of dinner plates all polished white

Hands at my side

Straight jacket mind, alright
