

Low Life

Death

Those who are a waste of life
Use up air that others could breathe
Human leaches all around
Looking superior is what they believe

Your existence on earth I resent
Each word that you speak is a lie
Fake is the word you represent
At the cost of others you get by

Low life - That's all you'll ever be
Lies in effect - That's what you like to see

Hiding behind material values
Never to change, always to look
That help cover up your weakness
For an easy way out of life

Nothing to back you up, never giving second thought
A pathetic excuse for a human being

Thinking you fool the world, into seeing something you are not

Your existence on earth I resent
At the cost of others you get by
Fake is the word you represent

Low life - That's all you'll ever be
Lies in effect - That's what you like to see
Each word that you speak is a lie
