

Follow The Dark Path

Deathspell Omega

All my life is dedicated to the master of evil.
For him I shall send to Hell the bastard human race.
Since the day I was spawned on these lands,
I keep on bringing pain and death everywhere.

I'm at war while my eneies live for peace.
My kind destroys all the weak earthly creations.
Intense blasphemies, total impure sins, sick atrocities,
Satan's the cause for which I live.

Few are the strong ones that follow the dark path.
Mature as a whole shall be exterminated.
I'll never sleep even when the horned king call me back,
every day and every night I strike like a disease.

All my way of slaying give me pleasure.
I rape, I cut, I make them all burn.
With an insane perversion chaos I spread.

The satanic legions come from beyond death,
The world from the outside must perish in flames
And the souls we take shall feed our supreme wreth.

You can hear me tolling the knell of your fate,
But the last sound you'll hear is your final breath.
I'll reduce your body and soul to ashes.
It will take some time but victory is certain.
