

Butterflies Are Free

Debbie Gibson

Don't close your hand
just close your eyes and I will stay right by your side and if this world
turns cruel and cold
look to the skies
don't you see the truth the power of one the power of two the power of me loving you

Butterflies are free
free to come and go
free to spread their wings
know that I know
you'll come back to me
cause love
like Butterflies are free

You'll see a light
you'll hear the call and if I don't let you fly I don't know you at all so go on and roam
see all that you can
born on to this earth
a curious soul
you and you alone
can make you feel whole but don't I get truth that you've never known

free to come and go
know that I know
you'll come back to me
cause love
like Butterflies are free.

The pain of the grip
the more you'll exist it's human nature I suppose but I'd rather be surprised like this then under your control.

Butterflies are free
free to come and go
know that I know
cause love

like Butterflies are free.

Butterflies are free
cause love
like Butterflies are free.
