

Wishing You Were Here

Debbie Gibson

I'm writing letters and your candle is burning Things could be better, can't handle this yearning.
Can't stop my head from spinning,
wishing you were here.

Look at your photo but it still can't hold me,
I just recall the things you never ever told me Like you're the one and I am
wishing you were here.

Wish you were here
to see the moon in the sky
Oh here, to see the light in your eyes
Looking at the stars and
Wishing you were here.

The clock is ticking but the time moves slowly
The weeks go quickly so you just won't know me I'm writing love songs and I'm wishing

Wish you were here,
to see the moon in the skies
Oh here, to see the light in your eyes
Looking at the stars and
Wishing you were here
To put a smile on my face Oh here, to get caught in my warm embrace
Looking at the stars and
wishing you were here

To calm the restless nights
To kiss my fears away.
Here, to make this wrong seem right
To start our lives today.

Wish you were here,
to see the moon in the skies
Oh here, to see the light in your eyes
Looking at the stars and
Wishing you were here
To put a smile on my face
Oh here, to get caught in my
warm embrace
Looking at the stars and
wishing you were here
