

Saying Goodbye

Deborah Cox

Why do most dudes choose to
Leave the girl that's been down from day one
I tried to love you, really love you
Gave my all

It's been a year since you told me goodbye
It hurts but I'm finally letting you go
Took that much time for me to recognise
That breaking was building my heart

Thank you for saying goodbye
Making me cry
Leaving me here all alone in the night
You saved my life, that beautiful night
You said goodbye

Thank you for saying goodbye
Found someone new
Yes I'm so grateful, I owe that to you
Told me to tell you he's thankful too
For saying goodbye

Would I have a man I love could just do me like this
But you really only set me up for a day such as this
You say rebound, I say touchdown
No more games

It's been a year since you told me goodbye
It hurts but I'm finally letting you go
Took that much time for me to recognise
That breaking was building my heart

Thank you for saying goodbye
Making me cry
Leaving me here all alone in the night
You saved my life, that beautiful night
You said goodbye

Thank you for saying goodbye
Found someone new
Yes I'm so grateful, I owe that to you
Told me to tell you he's thankful too
For saying goodbye

Wouldn't have found the love of my life
If you hadn't told me goodbye
Now I realise that there is such a thing
As a goodbye

Thank you for saying goodbye
Making me cry
Leaving me here all alone in the night
You saved my life, that beautiful night
You said goodbye

Thank you for saying goodbye
Found someone new

Yes I'm so grateful, I owe that to you
Told me to tell you he's thankful too
For saying goodbye

Thank you for saying goodbye
Found someone new
Yes I'm so grateful, I owe that to you
Told me to tell you he's thankful too
For saying goodbye
