

Thy Will Be Done

Deborah Cox

I can't lie and say I
Always understand why
The rain falls on me
And I have to admit, I feel my faith is gone
It's easy to believe when sorrow never comes your way
And when I try to pray, it seems the words they come out wrong

So everything that matters to me
I give it all to you
'cause I'm tired of the way the crying feels
And just to let you know I have been hurt so many times
So I pray to God that this time loves for real Hmmm...

So even though I can't see what tomorrow may bring
I believe in you 'cause you believe you believe in me
And even when the night makes the light hard to see
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done

I can't lie and say I
Always smile but I try
The tears sometimes they come
And nothing people say can ease the pain
Oh but when I close my eyes I see you reaching out for me
You tell me that this test I'm in, it won't last always

And though the seasons may change
Still your love it remains
When this world soon shall pass
We'll be together at lllaaaaaaaaaaaaaasssstttttt.....

Even though I can't see.....
(what tomorrow may bring.....i believe)
I believe in you cuz.....
(oohh 'cause you believe in me...yea ohh)
And even when the night makes....
(the light so hard to see ohhho)
Thy kingdom come (oohh yea), Thy will be done
(oh yea...thy kingdom come or thy will be done)
