

These Words

Deepfield

I love to hear the way you say my name
There's something in that sound
I've never found the words to say the way I feel about you now
I hate to see the tears run down your face, standing by my side
I've never found the words to say, but underneath the skies we' ll find a way
A way to let you know that

These words are not enough to move the ground beneath me
These words are just enough to say that you complete me
I hope that i never grow old
But I look into your eyes forever
These words can't say...

I can't remember much about my life
Before the day we found ourselves in love
I tried to find the words to say
Underneath the stars we'll find a way
A way to let you know that...

These words are not enough to move the ground beneath me
These words are just enough to say that you complete me
I hope that i never grow old
But I look into your eyes forever
These words can't say...

That I lost my place
I'm like a name without a face
And my lips can't taste anything but you
You were meant to be a part of me

These words are not enough to move the ground beneath me
These words are just enough to say that you complete me
I hope that i never grow old
But I look into your eyes forever
These words can't say...
