A world without you here An unreflecting mirror His words were so sincere He left you standing there

Oh, I'll never let you down While I'm still around

His words were never meant Your one last tear's been spent You'll never be content In a world as big as this

When you were lost, who was it who found you

Oh, I'll never let you down While I'm still around Oh, you've just been found Oh, I'll never let you down
