Deftones

I relate to your kind Your design Your devotion to wave Get your brain on the prize Then dive inside

The mindset of a killer With your mind out of phase

It's a game that we like We crave, yet nobody wins Any way you decide You try, but you die

The mindset of a killer With your gaze you paint the room Blood red with tears Pouring from the stage

And you can't stop now Rung by rung, almost out Covered in black and gold No one cares, no one knows My gift to the world outside It's okay, I'm alright Now open your empty head Here comes the fun Here comes the end

Click erase the device Give thanks, then clear out the room Blow kisses, wave them goodbye Goodnight
