

Misery of One

Deicide

Failure claim to frame abject the soul ending your own dream
you closed that door
The end of time has come for you and him are done Dissenion has begun the misery of one

Liars petty thieves out for their own sadness turn to grief the thruth now known.
now take your place with god unburdened by your thought you got just what you want a life of pain and loss

Dooming oneself for one selfish belief Only yourself by yourself was deceived nobody wants to remember your name.
Only what if's now remain in your place seen for the fraud that you put on display.
Live with your actions while digging your grave choke on the tr uth slap to the face.
Life without you is a much better place

A wish of death no hope for happiness
The flame of wealth no more of yours to delve Concurred defeat is all you'll ever reach embraced your hell as long as time will tell

Failure claimto frame abject your souls ending your own dreams
you closed that door!!
Dissenssion has begun in misery as one
