

Blue Heart

Deine Lakaïen

Cold you felt Like a wooden doll went through his hell But I found you ran away with you Talked to you Saved you too Day by day More veils disappeared And turned to grey Fell to ashes Took away your fears Smiles came back No more tears
Deep dark eyes Taste your ruby blood You hypnotized Made me risk all what seemed worth to me Golden leaves Got the key From then on Sand could feed No rose will lose it's thorn All the valleys Of this unknown land Will stay green Take my hand

Leave behind dusty backyards Come with me come with me For you and me For heaven's sake

Blue Heart Take away those lost and poor years' sorrows Blue Heart Face these joyful eyes of your tomorrow Blue Heart Run with me uphill where summits touch the sky Blue Heart Take away those lost and poor years' sorrows Blue Heart Face these joyful eyes of your tomorrow Blue Heart Fly with me and we will never say goodbye