Days Gone By

Deine Lakaien

The days gone by, remembered well The sound gone by without your kiss The sound gone by without you... The nights so long in golden rooms my heart so strong in strangest mood my heart so strong in strangest... The voice from heaven far above My eyes look up and touch you...

I shall sleep only in my black mantle When I attain the evening of these days. I shall sleep only beneath the blackvault When I attain the evening of these days.

I shall sleep only in my black mantle...

The days gone by, remembered well The sound gone by without your kiss The sound gone by without you...

I shall sleep only in my black mantle When I attain the evening of these days. Why then evoke the shade? Why then try to explain? Why then evoke the shade? Why then try to explain?