

Who'll Save Your World

Deine Lakaien

I ask you have you heard the news I ask you have you read the lines I ask you have you thought about it all I ask you have you got the power for more Power enough for more and more

Who'll save your world If not you tell me who I will guide you I will guide you Who'll save your world If not you tell me who Let me guide you and then follow you

I ask you have you heard the birds I ask you did you enjoy their song I ask you can you understand the truth I tell you, you got it the power for more Got enough power for more even more

Who'll save your world If not you tell me who I will guide you I will guide you Who'll save your world If not you tell me who Let me guide you and then follow you

I ask you to shake off the blues And I ask you to forget the old rules I tell you don't miss to understand the truth And then you can feel That there is power for more You've got the power for more even more

Who'll save your world If not you tell me who I will guide you I will guide you Who'll save your world If not you tell me who Let me guide you and then follow you
