

Without Your Words

Deine Lakaïen

No Shadow no Light No Shadow no Light

Without pains there is no fight Run to you to your height without truth no regret Need a pillow and no bed

Without truth no regret And does victory mean success No result without a test Please come home I will rest

Without notes no more chords And no poem without your words No sad eye without tears Dance away all the emptiness Flash a glance Our last dance

No freedom without a choice No song without your voice without sun there is frost No more guest without a host

Still afraid got no time Send your words hold the line Playing games read my mind Can't you see One of a kind

Without notes no more chords And no poem without your words No poem without your words

No sad eye without tears Dance away all the emptiness Flash a glance Our last dance
