

One Night Away

Delays

There's nothing in the morning
Just flowers and a feeling
That yesterday was stalling
For time to let the scene in

But you know how everything grows
And you know the feeling is love
But you're one night away
You're one night away

The snow has started falling
And covered our graffiti
I wander through the city
To find we're still in evening

But you know how everything grows
And you know the feeling is love
But you're one night away
You're one night away
Oh you're one night away

The feeling is love
