

Consciousness Of Love

Delerium

The consciousness of love doesn't understand
The white lies and the alibi-es of the wicked men
The purity of trust only seeks to find
A truth within the nothingness

Wants me in the oceans of the lie
Fell my soul and turn on me
Silence brings the darkness of the night
And dances in the flame
Of the consciousness of love
The consciousness of love
The consciousness of love is a patient calm
That steers within the eye of the perfect storm
The fade of all the lights on the wings of the butterfly
That nothingness is calling

Take me where the ocean meets the light
Blowing in the ecstasy
Silence brings the darkness of the night
And ravel in the flame
Of the consciousness of love
The consciousness of love
