Delorentos

Let the water come down there's never been A better time than right now It's all out, it's all out in the open Take a minute or two & realise life is less Without you And I know it's all out in the open

Hey

You won't get lost again in love Hey You won't get lost again in love

Stop

Try to be something you're not People will see right through that Try to be someone you are

Stop

Try to be something you're not People can see right through that Try to be someone you are

Take a moment today cuz there's no point in running away Cuz I know it's so hard in the open

Неу

You won't get lost again in love Hey You won't get lost again in love

Stop

Try to be something you're not People can see right through that Try to be someone you are

Stop

Try to be something you're not People will see right through that Try to be someone you are

Stop

Try to be something you're not People will see right through that Try to be someone you are

Stop

Try to be something you're not People can see right through that Try to be someone you are