

Beautiful Madness

Delta Goodrem

I'm a speeding car
You're a postcard never posted
I'm a velvet roar
And you're a soldier in the sand

I'm not afraid of anything I see if I can feel it
Like the unexpected comfort of your love

Would I lie, would I lie, would I lie lookin' in your eyes?
Would I laugh, would I cry when it's time to say goodbye?
Would I know where you go? All I know is that you found me
In this beautiful madness

We make beautiful madness

I am a nervous clock
And you're a suitcase lost in Hong Kong
I'm a 7a.m. chi
And you can always sleep till noon

You make me laugh, under the pouring rain I barely feel it
Like the unexpected way you drew me in

Would I lie, would I lie, would I lie lookin' in your eyes?
Would I laugh, would I cry when it's time to say goodbye
Would I know where you go? All I know is that you found me
In this beautiful madness

We make beautiful madness

I would never trade this twisted happy ending
I would rather take this road with you that's bending
'Cause the love in you before was just pretending
Beautiful madness
