

The Farthest

DELUHI

I was chasing my hope
Deep inside me
But nothing could be found
Grief inside me

I quake I break
My heart is awfully tired
I quake I wake
There's no turning back
My prayers have vanished. Everything's in vain
Here my story ends

This is the farthest end
Nowhere to go
All hope disappears in front of me
Nobody can hear my grievous scream from a place like this in the dark

This is the farthest end
Sorrow overflows
The last flicker of hope has died inside me
I am lost and have lost all
Somebody embrace me now
Please embrace me now
