My Ally Anger

Dementor

All the hate I feel
All the anger filling me from within
Makes my thoughts weak and slack
And weakness always tends to hurt

Anger accompanies me
And I feel its presence
I hate my ally anger
But I can not find defence

Christian is not worthy of being my enemy He is less than the stone I trample on I still can not find the point Why I waste so much time on hating you

Their belief leads them down
I do not need to help them to die
Their extinction is about to come
All their lies are fading down forever

Now I am summoning the darkness And send my ally to lead you down No more mercy in my heart No more anger in my eyes
