Stop playing games, games, games...

Text on 'read', and it ain't no accident
Boy, I ain't gon' ask again
Now you got me in my head
Waiting by the phone at night, that's shit that I don't do
And I just can't explain what's happening

Sending all these messages alone at night, on Patron at night
In the morning, different story, ain't that right

I don't know why you play these games
Come on, now, say what you wanna say
Careful when you play these games
You might find out the hard way that two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, two can play these games
And you know it's driving me insane
Careful when you play these games
You might find out the hard way that two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, two can play, yeah

I date men, but you're acting like a little boy
And no, I ain't your little toy
Honey, I don't need new friends
Before you hit my phone again

Sending all these messages alone at night, Patron at night
In the morning, different story, ain't that right?

I don't know why you play these games
C'mon, now, say what you wanna say
Careful when you play these games
You might find out the hard way that two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, play these games
And you know it's driving me insane
Careful when you play these games
You might find out the hard way that two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, two can play, yeah

Now I know you're used to winning
And I'm tired of keeping score
But if you're ready to quit it, maybe I can be yours

I don't know why you play these games
C'mon, now, say what you wanna say
Careful when you play these games
You might find out the hard way that two can play
Yeah, two can play

Yeah, two can play
Yeah, play these games
And you know it's driving me insane
Careful when you play these games
You might find out the hard way that two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, two can play
Yeah, two can play, yeah
