

With You

Demis Roussos

In the silence of this dark and lonely night
Here I lie and watch a fading star
Once again I wait to face the morninglight
On my own wondering where you are

With you the night was warm
My heart would sing of love
With you I was reborn
I was the king of love

With you my wildest dreams would all come true
Tonight that gift from all to be with you

If I close my eyes I see your face again
Smiling up to me just like before
And I feel so bad when I remember when
You just said goodbye and closed the door

With you the night was warm
My heart would sing of love
With you I was reborn
I was the king of love

With you my wildest dreams would all come true
Tonight that gift from all to be with you

With you the night was warm
My heart would sing of love
With you I was reborn
I was the king of love

With you my wildest dreams would all come true
Tonight that gift from all to be with you
