

Prey

Demon

He was born in the cold of the desert night
Left to die in the heat of the day
He was raised in the wild and the wilderness
By the creatures who lived off their prey
A boy, a man, a soldier of destiny
An awesome fighter, a warrior in time
Building bridges, building legends, immortal, fearless and brave

And he learned to run with the wolf, and fly on the wings of a bird
Over mountains and rivers to the sea, his call could be heard

Chorus

Prey, you'd better run for your life if you wanna live
Pray, cos you know he can ride like the wind
Prey, you'd better run for your life if you wanna live
Pray, cos you know he can ride like the wind

Marble halls and statues of ancient times
Hidden cities and the lost worlds
His kingdom an uncharted territory
One of the loneliest places on earth
His name was spoken by all the gods
His fame spread through the land
Fearless leader forever and all times, his legacy stands to this day

And he learned to run with the wolf, and fly on the wings of a bird
Over mountains and rivers to the sea, his call could be heard

Chorus

And he learned to run with the wolf, and fly on the wings of a bird
Over mountains and rivers to the sea, his call could be heard
And though many seasons have passed and many a young man has grown
You can still hear his voice on the wind, leading his children back home

Chorus
