Jezebel

Depeche Mode

They call you Jezebel Whenever we walk in You're going straight to hell For wanted acts of sin - they say, And that I'll have to pay But I need you just this way

They call you Jezebel For what you like to wear You're morally unwell They say you never care for me But what the fail to see is that your games are the key

Open their eyes to the beauty Open their hearts to the fun Open their minds to the idea that you don't own someone

They call you Jezebel Whenever men walk by They say that they can tell The longing in your eyes is real And how you really feel But they can't see your appeal
